DAVIS HITS HUMPHREYS

Unseemly Quarrel in and About Court.

George A. Davis violently assaulted Abram S. Humphreys in a corridor between Judge De Bolt's courtroom and his office yesterday morning before the jury session of the court opened. Davis took Humphreys by surprise, knocked him prostrate with a blow and then punched him twice when down.

As both men are not only attorneys but former Circuit Court judges, the episode naturally caused a sensation in the courthouse which was quickly shared by the town.

There was a preliminary scene in open court, comprising a challenge to fight by Davis, an acceptance by Humphreys, a start by the belligerents for outside, a return on better thought and contempt proceedings, the last being tied over with apologies.

At the early session which Judge De Bolt holds at 9 o'clock for motions, etc., Davis filed a motion for a new trial in the case of Ah On, the former policeman convicted of taking bribes as an executive officer. Humphreys gave notice of a similar motion on behalf of Ah On. Then there was a dispute as to which of the two attorneys was counsel for Ah On.

Judge De Bolt admitted that Davis had properly and ably conducted Ah On's defense when he was acquitted under the first indictment, but said his conduct while defending Ah On under the second indictment, when the man was convicted, was far from a due protection of the defendant's interests.

Then it was left to Ah On, who promptly disowned Davis. At this Davis withdrew from the case but immediately started for Humphreys and shook his fist at him, exclaiming, "Let us settle it right here."

"Yes, let us go outside and settle it," Humphreys responded.

Davis bolted for the public doorway, rolling up his sleeves.

Humphreys strode at his challenger's heels, also rolling up his sleeves.

At the door Davis made one of his lightning right about turns, ejaculat-ing:

"Hold on, this is contempt of court." Judge De Bolt thought so too, but accepted the apologies both attorneys tendered, though mingled with mutual bandying of blame in schoolboy fashion.

The court said it was less surprised at Davis than at Humphreys, yet favorably compared the frankness of Humphreys with the reluctance of Davis in finally offering amends.

Humphreys was granted a continuance of Ah On's case on his plea that the scene just passed through had got upon his nerves.

Judge De Bolt declared a recess and retired to his office, where he was shortly afterward followed by Humphreys, who wished to assure him of the sincerity of his regret at having been a party to the breach of decorum.

Davis tracked his opponent into the judge's chamber, where another row at once began, but Judge De Bolt informed the gentlemen of the bar that he could not tolerate any uproar in that apartment.

Humphreys left the room closely followed by Davis and, just as the door closed behind the latter, Judge De Bolt heard Davis utter the hall, "Oh, Judge," in quite wild tones. Then he heard the noise of a disturbance.

Clerk Kellett saw what occurred from his desk, looking through the judge's private entrance to the courtroom.

As Humphreys turned in response to the hail, Davis caught him under the jaw with his fist, knocking him down.
As he delivered the blow Davis shouted, "It is you that has insulted me."

Davis stooped over and struck his prostrate brother attorney twice in the face. Bailiff Hopkins ran out and grabbed Davis, whom he dragged toward the outer corridor. Davis struggled to get free and Clerk Kellett went to the assistance of Hopkins. Meanwhile the Attorney-General Andrews and others had assisted Humphreys to his feet, after which the Attorney-General told the court officer to let Davis go.

Hopkins then pushed Davis out into the transverse corridor, telling him to go away and behave himself.

Judge Humphreys was interviewed by an Advertiser reporter on Thursday regarding a rumor that he intended bringing disbarment proceedings against Davis for his conduct in the second Ah On case. He stated that he had not the remotest intention of doing such a thing. On the contrary, he had spoken to Deputy Attorney-General Peters and to Judge De Bolt with a view to obtaining a new trial for Ah On without the necessity of filing an affidavit regarding the conduct of his counsel. In his opinion the indiscretion of Davis was not a cause for disbarment.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

The attack on Humphreys yesterday recalls a similar incident in the corridors of the courts in 1899 when Humphreys attacked Frank Davey, the photographer. The cases are just reversed. Davey was a witness in a case against a client of Mr. Humphreys, who was charged with counterfeiting Hawaiian paper money. Davey was on the stand as an expert witness concerning chemicals, etc., which would be used in counterfeiting by the photographic process. Davey testified in a manner which did not suit Humphreys.
When Davey left the stand and went out into the clerk's room, Humphreys followed him out, and almost without warning, but after calling Davey a pre-varicator, he struck Davey on the left cheek. Davey was totally unprepared for the blow, and but for the interference of officers, would have knocked Humphreys down and probably done him considerable damage, as Davey was then a powerful man. Judge Stanley's attention was directed to the affair and he called Humphreys before the bar. Humphreys admitted that he had done a wrongful act in the court and was fined $100.

Humphreys once undertook to pull Volcano Marshall's nose and was knocked down. He had several street altercations while living in Arizona.

HAWAIIAN HOTEL

SALE TODAY NOON

At noon today one of the largest properties ever offered as a whole at auction in the Hawaiian Islands will be cried for the highest bid by the Fisher, Ables Co., Ltd., at the front entrance of the Judiciary building. This is the entire Royal Hawaiian Hotel Co.'s establishment, comprising free simple land, leaseholds, buildings and the contents thereof, ordered sold under foreclosure proceedings instituted by the Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., as trustee of the bondholders.

Until five years ago the Hawaiian had been for a long period the only first-class hotel in Honolulu. It was established many years ago by the Hawaiian Government, as its title indicates, when there was not enough inducement to enlist private enterprise in giving the city such a hotel as its commercial importance and position on Pacific routes of travel required.

The two-story main building with basement, of solid concrete, is a historical landmark. Some years ago Col.
Macfarlane and associates obtained expert assurance that the old structure was capable of sustaining two additional stories. It was intended by them thus to increase the capacity of the building, but as travel fell off badly for several years the project was never carried out.

NEW MAN AT KERR'S

TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT

Mr. Sontag, a passenger by the Alameda, comes to take charge of Kerr's tailoring department. He is a cutter of exceptional experience, having been engaged in first-class houses in Paris, New York and San Francisco. Kerr & Co. feel sure that they have a man who will turn out clothes in a thoroughly stylish and perfect fitting manner.

THE LUGAN TRIAL

AND OTHER ITEMS

M. P. Lugan took the stand in his own defense yesterday, denying that he had embezzled money and that he had admitted to Deputy Sheriff Chil-lingworth in the O. R. & L. Co.'s office, that he had embezzled money. The trial is continued till Monday.

Attorney General Andrews, for Superintendent of Public Works Holloway and Road Supervisor Johnson, has filed an answer, a brief and a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction obtained by Wm. Mahuka. It is shown that no attempt has been made to take a strip of land from the petitioner for the extension of Kukui street, but a Government surveyor has done some work on the premises in accordance with law.

Judge Lindsay granted a decree of divorce to Lydia P. Kukailani against David Kukailani on the ground of desertion.

Judge Lindsay granted a divorce to Petrus G. W. Pahu against Catharina Moku Pahu on the ground of desertion.

HALEIWA.

modern improvement and affords its guests an opportunity to enjoy all amusements - golf, tennis, billiards, fresh and salt water bathing, shooting, fishing, riding and driving. Tickets, including railway fare and one full day's room and board, are sold at the Honolulu station and Trent & Company for $5.00. For departure of trains consult time table.

On Sundays, the Haleiwa Limited, a two-hour train, leaves at 8:22 a. m.; returning, arrives i. Honolulu at 10:10
p. m.

Stereopticon Lecture

There will be a stereopticon lecture given by Rev. Mr. Westervelt at the Salvation Army hall, corner King and Nuuanu streets, tonight at 8 o'clock.
Subject, "The Life of Jesus." Admission free and all are invited.

Ensign Anderson, Matron of the Salvation Army Industrial Home for Women, will have a sale of fancy and useful articles, made by the inmates of the Home, at the hall after the service.

The Federal grand jury took up another matter yesterday morning, which indicated that the ship Starbuck investigation had been concluded. Four of the vessel's crew have been detained as witnesses. The grand jury adjourned till Wednesday.

A Honolulu Case

Many More Like It in Honolulu.
The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Honolulu. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Jurgen Walter of this city tells us as follows: "My age is 79—well past the ordinary span of life—and I am the parent of eight children. Being so far advanced in years, I regard the relief obtained from Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

I suffered from a lame back for years, but after taking some of the pills (procured at Hollister's drug store) was greatly benefited, and I am satisfied the pills did me much good."

Our kidneys filter our blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorder, eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

The following are inserted as Profitable Investments.
